New Skirt For 1866.

The Great Invention of the Age in HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of DUPLEX (or two) ELLIPTIC PURE REFINED STEEL SPRINGS, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable SPRING ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Spring, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promonade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day wil never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2-ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps etc., etc, which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEST BRADLEY & CARY, PROPRIETORS of the Invention, and SOLE MANUFACTURERS, 97 CHAMBERS, 79 & 81 READE STREETS New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

Late Papers,

LATE Richmond and New York, papers are kept for sale at the post-office.

Salisbury Dec. 11th 1865. tfd-169.

To the Citizens of North-Carolina.

The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country, having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a removal of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends,—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandies, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate Importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transaction with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britian have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors, and Liqmures of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical Faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant, and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and venders of a spurious article under the same name.

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which with ordinary circumspection will inshure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would however, recommend in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot. 22 Beaver Street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandies, &c. in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especialy recommended to all connaisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I wotld especially call the earley attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to inshure the fulfilment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortment.

ADOLPHO WOLFE.

Dec. 11, No. 169-3mo.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday 24 January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both, the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

IF—what a potent word; how much meaning it conveys; how it changes the sense of what has gone before or comes after. We at the South say frequently that Richmond would not have fallen if Stonewall Jackson had lived; that Vicksburg would not have fallen if Pemberton had not been in command; that the war might have lasted much longer, perhaps have ended differently, if Joseph E. Johnston had not been removed from command at Atlanta; that if our people had been a unit, or Mr. Davis had pursued a different policy, or Mr. Malroy had possessed any capacity for the Naval Bureau, or an unbounded faith had possessed the hearts of our people, or had foreign Nations intervened, or if our scrip had remained at par, or speculators had not arisen, or this, or that, or the other thing had, or had not happened according to the peculiar beet of the party, the Confederacy might have been established. Have these parties who prate so glibly about the causes that induced failure, ever examined their own private records? If so, do they find no fault with themselves? Do they answer to themselves honestly and truly, "I did my part and my whole part in the late struggle." Some on the other hand treat the late struggle in its inception and in the influences brought to bear upon its failure as the special providence of the Almighty. The one we regard as idle speculation, and the other a falacious theory. The war was like some gigantic and complex machinery; its destruction at once so sudden and complete, as to shroud the cause in mere vague speculation. If it is the direct will of God, then as adorers of his infinite wisdom and goodness, believing that He caused everything to happen for the best we should feel profoundly thankful. We hope those who believe in special dispensations of providence, will inculcate the idea in all its bearings, if it does not satisfy the reason it is at least consolatory to the feelings. For it is a principle that works both ways; if He specially ordered the end, so with equal propriety we may say He did the beginning, if each were equally His will, while we should not murmer at the end, but be thankful that "His will was done on earth." So the North can not complain that it was begun for the same reasons mutalis mutandis. But one idea is clearly taught in the sublime philosophy of the Christian religion alike binding on all people. "Love your enemies."

THE "KEY-STONE" AND BOGUS MASONRY.

A friend has kindly placed at our disposal the December No. of this valuable and interesting periodical. It should meet with the patronage of the craft. The editor sees fit to comment, not exactly in a Masonic spirit, we regret, on an article which appeared in our paper some time since under the caption of Bogus Masonry, in which we stated that a certain ceremony, performed in the city of New York, had "no connection with or analogy to any of the esotoric or exoteric rites of Ancient Craft Masonry." We re-affirm the statement, and since Bro. Smith would imply the contrary we ask him to answer categorically the following questions:

1st. Did he ever see such a ceremony performed, or hear of its being performed in a Blue Lodge?

2d. Did he in a Royal Arch Chapter?

3d. Did he in a Council?

We know that he must answer each query in the negative and we claim then to have substantiated our declaration that it forms no part of "Ancient Craft Masonry."

We know nothing of 33d Degree, nor did we mean to convey the impression that there was anything improper in the ceremony. It was said to have been performed by a "Masonic association" in New York and we know that no such ceremony was ever performed by any Lodge of York Masons. As to our not being a Mason, we are surprised, as independent of the fact of our having presided over two lodges. Bro. Smith in the same No. publishes two of our articles, under the nom de plume of

SIGMA.

The editor of the Banner is not a Mason. The article headed "Bogus Masonry" was written by a gentleman, who is a Mason, in temporary charge of its columns, and the above is his reply.—ED. BANNER.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Interesting Statistics—Southern Manufacturers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6, '65.

J. J. Stewart, Esq:

DEAR SIR—One great fault of the Southern people has been their universal neglect to encourage and protect home manufactures.

With resources unsurpassed they have pursued a policy that has always sent their money away from home, that by rights should have been paid to the proprietors of their own Southern manufactories and by them in turn paid to the farmers and laborers, thus helping each other.

The following statistics show that the Southern States have already a fair start in manufacturing:

In 1860 there were 350 woolen mills in the Southern States, as follows: in Maryland, 25; in Delaware, 6; In Virginia, 69; in North Carolina, 22; in South Carolina, 8; in Georgia, 28; in Alabama, 15; in Mississippi, 9; Texas, 3; in Arkansas, 8; in Tennessee, 59; in Kentucky, 92; in Missouri, 99. Capital invested $2,861,825; wool manufactured, 8,065,622 pounds; value of annual product $5,596,094.

In the manufacture of cotton goods, there were 180 mills running in 1860; in Delaware, 11; in Maryland 19; in Virginia, 13; in North Carolina, 36; in South Carolina, 17; in Georgia, 32; in Florida, 1; in Alabama, 11; in Louisiana, 2; in Texas, 1; in Mississippi, 4; in Arkansas, 1; in Tennessee, 25; in Missouri, 8; in Kentucky, 4. Amount of capital invested $12,362,400; cotton manufactured, 55.367,122 pounds; value of raw material $7,223,859; value of annual product $11,285,775.

But these are by no means the only staples which the Southern States produced in manufacturing. In steam machinery their product was valued in 1860 at $7,620,467; their iron manufacture $5,486,158; lumber $4,830,122; flour and meal $54,664,327; leather $6,906,601, and in the four States of Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia, the value of boots and shoes manufactured was $2,729,327.

The total statistics of Southern manufacture in 1860, approximated the following aggregates:

Number of manufacturing establishments, 27,954; capital invested, $181,538,000; value of raw material, $158,065,000; help employed, 168,038 males, and 34,418 females; annual product, $238,188,000.

These amounts show a flattering increase over the returns of the census of 1850. The revival of manufacturing will now increase at a greatly accelerated ratio.

There is no reason why the manufacturers of the South should not in the future take a leading place among the interests of the United States, if the people will only be true to themselves and their own interests and give their own manufacturers the preference.

In the adoption of the policy of protection to home manufactures, the Southern people will receive the cordial cooperation of the North, who in every good work are even willing to meet them more than half way.

D. D. CONE.

A MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT.—A French lady advertised sometime ago, in the Parisian journals, under the initials A. C., that she was young, handsome and worth two millions, and was anxious to get married, but did not care whether her husband was rich or poor. She invited the aspirants to her hand to send their photographs. A month afterward, having in the meantime received fifteen hundred applications, she started a journal, soliciting subscriptions from all her would be husbands, and promising to publish her reply to the respective candidates in her new journal. She immediately received several thousand francs, the aggregate amount of the subscription money, and forthwith published all the letters. The journal ceasing to appear after that first, and it seemed last issue, the befooled parties now appealed to the court, where the trial of the ingenious lady has lately taken place.—Among the most spicy letters is that of a drum major who declares himself ready for all sacrifices, including that of his post in his regiment, provided he can secure Mlle. A. C., and her two millions. A cook writes to her: "My physique is admirable, Mademoiselle, and my two sisters are milliners. Your two millions would make us the kings of France." Among the amateurs of this double-millioned woman are not a few persons occupying high stations, who thus find their matrimonial ambitions rather awkwardly exposed.

Josh Billings' Testimony.—Josh Billings being duly sworn, deposes as follows:

That most men had rather dew a smart thing, than to dew a good one.

That back-sliding is a good thing, especially on the ice.

There is 2 things in life for which we are never fully prepared, and that is twins.

That ignorance is bliss—ignorance of sawing wood, for instuns.

That men will fail to be saved, simply becoz they hain't got nothing to save.

That a female woman kan't keep a secrit, nor let no body else keep 1.

That a little larning iz a dangerous thing—that iz true az it air common.

That it iz better to fale in a noble enterprise than tew succseed in a mean wun.

A SAD AFFAIR.

We understand that Jas. A., son of Mr. Able Cowan, came to his death in a very sad and deplorable way day before yesterday. The lad, aged about six years, was unwell, and his father administered to him a small quantity of spirits, and leaving the vessel containing the remainder in his room, left him alone for a short time. When he returned he found the child in the act of swallowing more. Medical attendance was procured, but in defiance of all remedies, he died in ten or twelve hours. This is a sad affair and we sympathize deeply with the breaved father.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

It is apparent to all that something is needed to arrest vice and fix the minds of our citizens, of all ages, on that which is better calculated to elevate and purify society, and establish a fellow feeling of charity and mutual regard between all classes of our people, one toward the other. To this end, it has been suggested that the institution of a Library Association or reading room to which the young and old of our citizens may repair to pass away their leisure hours or spare time, would tend, in no small degree, to produce the object and elevate the standard of our morality. This, we think, is an elegant suggestion. Will our citizens act upon it? Will a sufficient number unite themselves together to secure the success of an enterprise so laudable in its inception and so worthy of its ends? There are incalculable advantages and blessings to be derived from it to our whole community. We hope to see it succeed. Will some one more able and better acquainted with the benefits to be derived from such an association give us more extended views on this important subject?

PROPOSALS FOR CARRYING THE MAILS.

We publish below proposals for carrying the mails weekly to the County seats of this State, until the first of January next. We trust that persons who may be disposed to make proposals will do so at once, as mails are very much needed. We learn that ten dollars per mile will be allowed for this temporary service. The post offices on the various lines will be supplied, and it is desirable that postmasters be appointed at once. Proposals for any of these routes, and nominations for Postmasters, may be addressed to Gov Holden, to be forwarded by him to Washington. Persons who may propose to carry the mails must offer the necessary evidence that they will comply with their contracts; and nominations for Postmasters must be endorsed by loyal men, known to the Governor. Females may act as Postmasters, and there is no objection to appionting them.

The advertisement for the regular mail service in this State will appear soon.

We learn that the granting of this special temporary mail service is due to the indefatigable exertions of Dr. R. J. Powell, the State Agent in Washington, aided by W. S. Mason and W. J. Palmer, Esqr's. of this city. We believe that no such favor has been extended to any other State.

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, proposes to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in this enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in the grave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving the old Examiner newspaper, so long the ornament of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instructors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief illustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitious one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the dissappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constitutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he has been forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of reviving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with so much that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. He calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscriptions, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three-quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, prompt to chastise abuses, and ambitions to defend and adorn the civilization and literature o the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond papers.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c., taken from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War," now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect narratives which have been written and published in the Northern press.

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

All letters and communications of every character should be addressed to

H. RIVES POLLARD,
Richmond, Va.

Wanted, an Agent in every town in Virginia and all the Southern States.

Also, immediately, twenty active and enterprising men to travel and canvass for the paper—a fine chance for men out of employment. H. R. P.

NOTICE.

MODEL SEWING MACHINE.

(From the New York Herald)

Prominent among the mechanical triumphs of this most ingenious age, common honesty compels us to notice the Empire Sewing Machine, commended as justly styled perfection itself. Useful as have been the various sewing machines, from time to time presented to the public, each one of them has been cursed with some radical defect, which detracts from general utility. Warned by the experience of his predecessors, the inventor of the Empire Machine has produced an instrument, combining all the advantages for which others are vaunted, and obviating every defect which can be attributed to them by the most fastidious critic.

The Empire Machine is a marvellous combination of simplicity, economy and perfect workmanship, being durable, free from liability to get out of order, noiseless, and easy of, operation. its mechanical contrivance is such as to secure stability, freedom from accident, and accuracy as to workmanship. By the use of the patented shuttle and straight needle, it makes a stitch, which can neither rip nor ravel, at the same time, it can operate perfectly upon every species of material from leather to cambric, with threads of cotton, linen or silk, from the finest to the coarsest number.

As the Empire Machine is gradually supplanting its more antique rivals, no one in want of a useful instrument of this description, be he or she tailor, coachmaker, dressmaker or seamstress, can do otherwise than secure one of these economical and inimitable machines, suited alike for family and manufacturing purposes. The office of the Empire Manufacturing Co. is at No. 536 Broadway, New York City, where they are now supplying these Empire Machines a prices far below the real value of the instrument.—New York Herald.
